To Whom it May Concern:

Swift Aircraft Services is a maintenance organization based at Jandakot Airport, Western Australia. We have used the services of Ultra Slick Coaters (a division of Ultra Shine Aviation International) for the past 7 years.

During this period Ultra Slick have maintained the appearance of a number of our customers aircraft with regular use of their aircraft approved UV Paint Sealant coating.

The process has proved most beneficial when clients are selling their aircraft. When an aircraft is presented in its best possible condition after detailing, not only does this assist in a quicker sale, but also enhances the value to the aircraft.

Many of the aircraft we service come from isolated and remote areas of Western Australia, particularly charter operators in the North West. The UV treatment provides a great deal of protection in these harsh hot and dusty conditions where thorough washing is not always possible, and so reduces the frequency and cost of corrosion protection and repainting of the aircraft.

We are therefore happy to recommend Ultra Slick Coaters for the specialist service and product they provide.
